Alphabet's Q3'26 earnings report revolved around a few key themes: 1) Search & Other revenue disappointed relative to GS/Street estimates, with management pointing to FX headwinds as the primary driver in addition to tougher revenue comparatives as the company laps in acceleration in Search revenue growth (while also reflecting strong query growth, and framed many AI driven searches as incremental (rather than cannibalistic) to the base of activity levels); 2) emphasized their frontier model leadership position (further demonstrated by the release of Genie 4 yesterday and Gemini C4 Carbon today); 3) Cloud revenue growth (+103% YoY) and revenue backlog (now at $561bn, +256% YoY & with a comment that ~55% will convert into revenue in next 24 months) all reflected strong operating momentum in the Cloud segment, with additional availability of compute standing as a gating factor to even faster growth; 4) the focus on agentic AI is the next area of platform and product evolution – with mgmt highlighting Universal Cart, Gemini Agent into Search and Workspace & plans to extend agentic experiences deeper across Chrome and Android – in addition, mgmt reflected that agentic is additive to Search by solving high value user questions as opposed to automating or disrupting discovery; & 5) reiterated their capex guidance for 2026 ($195-205bn, our updated estimate is ~$203bn) with a further material increase expected in 2027 (not yet guided, our updated estimate is ~$350bn), and mgmt citing that they expect ROIC to remain meaningfully above their cost of capital while acknowledging the continued disconnect (reflected in free cash flow) in terms of investing deeply to meet demand and close current compute constraints.

In our view, investors are likely to continue to focus on: a) the forward rate of change in Search & Other revenue as core search evolves into a wider array of multi-modal canvases (including consumer agents) given an outsized amount of core operations profits (in our view) are generated from Search & Other; b) the visibility into peak capex levels (magnitude & timing) behind the AI theme & continued disclosures around normalized ROIC on current period spend and forward execution against its revenue backlog opportunity; c) Gemini's relative competitive positioning vs. other foundational models (& the continued need to allocate compute to such efforts); & d) how the company can balance allocating compute across internal product development, external client needs and a desire to be at the forefront of model performance achieving an industry leading level at the frontier. In our view, the Search revenue debate and visibility into normalized free cash flow remain the two anchor debates around which investors will now want additional clarity on to increase their confidence interval.

Looking long-term, we continue to view Alphabet as well-positioned against the rising secular growth theme anchored around wider adoption rates of AI across consumer and enterprise compute including the evolution of its consumer facing products/applications, the facilitation of enterprise spend deployment toward AI tokens/workflows & the scaling of their custom silicon solutions across client usage inside Google environments and external sales. Our thesis is anchored around a central view that AI distribution at scale (collection of 1bn+ user applications) and scale of compute to both invest and drive efficiencies remain as a dual under-appreciated narrative in terms of AI over the long-term, particularly as we move from the "infrastructure" to "platform" and "application" layers of AI monetization.

We reiterate our Buy rating & adjust our 12-month PT from $435 to $385 as we update our forward operating estimates to reflect this earnings report & management commentary. On our updated estimates, GOOGL currently trades at ~18x our 2027E GAAP EPS estimate (ex- net cash) & ~15x our 2028E GAAP EPS estimate (ex- net cash).

Q3 '26 Positives & Negatives:

Positives: a) Cloud business outperformed relative to GSe/FactSet Street expectations (+103% YoY in Q3'26) & operating margin expansion (~1250bps YoY) driven by significant enterprise AI demand (including TPU system sales as a meaningful contributor, with nearly 100 customers using TPUs today, expected to further ramp in Q4 & through 2027); b) Positive commentary around the application of AI capabilities across ads quality (better clicks/conversions & deeper personalization), advertiser tools (stronger adoption of AI Max & PMax) & AI user experiences (majority of AI Mode queries are upper funnel queries and are incremental, creating monetization opportunities over time); & c) Continued strength from Subscription offerings (growing faster than ads), led by YouTube Music + Premium (with management disclosing that YouTube Premium has over 150m subscribers) & strong demand for AI plans in Google

One.

Negatives: a) Q3 Search & Other revenues came in below GSe/Street, with the deceleration primarily driven by FX headwinds, in addition to vertical specific dynamics (with some APAC retailers impacted by EU eliminating the de minimus exemption & media/entertainment spend normalization following the FIFA World Cup); b) While FY26 capex guidance remained unchanged at $195-205bn, management reiterated the need to capitalize on AI opportunity given elevated demand for Google's AI products, with FY27 capex expected to increase significantly compared to 2026; & c) Q4 outlook includes ongoing FX headwinds (expected to be slightly larger relative to Q3) & the continued lapping of tougher comps given an acceleration in Search revenues beginning in Q3'25.

Q4'26 & FY2027 Estimate Changes:

Q4'26: Consolidated gross revenues of $140.97bn (from prior $141.78bn); GAAP EBITDA of $66.45bn (from prior $66.49bn); & GAAP EPS of $3.42 (from prior $3.39). 2027: Consolidated gross revenues of $615.48bn (from prior $620.48bn); GAAP EBITDA of $297.04bn (from prior $316.02bn); & GAAP EPS of $15.01 (from prior $15.50).

Maintain Buy Rating; Lower PT to $385 (from $435)

Our $385, 12-month price target is based on an equal blend of (1) EV/GAAP EBIT applied to our NTM + 1 year estimates and (2) a modified DCF using EV/FCF-SBC multiple applied to our NTM + 4 years estimates discounted back 3 years.

Valuation: Maintain Buy Rating; Lower PT to $385 (from $435)

Our $385 12-month price target (from $435 prior) is based on an equal blend of (1) EV/GAAP EBIT applied to our NTM + 1 year estimates and (2) a modified DCF using EV/FCF-SBC multiple applied to our NTM + 4 years estimates discounted back 3 years. Specifically:

- 24.0x EV/GAAP EBIT (from 26.0x prior) or 0.80x EV/GAAP EBIT-to-growth (from 0.79x prior) applied to our NTM + 1 year estimates. We lower our absolute multiple to reflect lower forward estimates and to maintain our prior ~0.80x multiple-to-growth.
- 50.0x EV/FCF-SBC (unchanged) applied to our NTM + 4 years estimates discounted back 3 years at 12% (unchanged). The discount rate represents CAPM using the blended average of companies within our coverage universe consisting of: (1) 3% risk free rate (based on the normalized 10-year rate); (2) average beta of ~1.3; (3) equity risk premium of 7%.

Risks to our Buy rating include: a) competition of product utility levels and advertising dollars; b) headwinds to monetizable (product) search from industry disruption; c) shifting media consumption habits; d) heavy investments depress operating margins for longer than our forecasts; e) no/low levels of incremental shareholder returns going forward; & f) regulatory scrutiny and industry practices altering the business model's prospects. In addition, Alphabet is exposed to the volatility caused by the global macroeconomic environment and investor risk appetite for growth stocks.

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.
