Anker Innovations reported mixed 3Q26 results where revenue came in below our expectation (yet to a lesser extent vs. market expectation) while operating profits came in stronger than our expectation (and also market's), post market close of Oct 29 (First take). The company's A/H shares corrected by 3%/11% (vs. -1%/+1% of CSI300/HSI) on Oct 30, as we think investors historically have placed a higher emphasis on revenue growth. The greater correction by H shares is likely driven by non-fundamental factors such as liquidity, in our view. Post correction, the A/H premium widened to 30%+ (vs. 13% embed in our valuation methodology). We therefore see more favorable risk/reward in Anker's H shares, all else equal.

We attended the earning call on Oct 30 where management discussed key topics including revenue performance by key product category, margin trends and product strategy going forward. Our overall view is that Anker remains one of the highest quality growth names under our coverage, with intact key investment thesis (innovation-driven resilient revenue growth and margin expansion), despite fluctuations between quarterly results. The company's core business including charging and consumer energy storage remains solid while innovative new products, such as the Liberty 5 series Active Noise Cancellation (ANC) earbuds, continue to drive strong revenue growth. Conversely, growth was primarily dragged by product lines where there remains a gap between Anker's products and those of leading players (e.g., cleaning appliances). We expect revenue growth to re-accelerate once the company narrows the product gap and the new products (e.g., hearing aids launched in IFA in Sep) start to contribute revenue. On profitability, Anker has already outperformed most peers with stable GPM (ex-tariff refunds) and OPM expansion considering strong cost headwinds. Post correction, Anker's A/H is trading at 18x/13x 26E-27E P/E, at the lower end of its historical trading range in 2023-26, against 20%+ revenue/net profits CAGR in 2026-28E and 3% dividend yield. We therefore reiterate Buy on both A/H shares.

We revise down our 2026E-28E EPS by 6%-7% to factor in the latest results and our updated assumptions primarily factoring in the likely slower growth from smart home and innovative products. Accordingly, our 12m TP for A/H is revised down to Rmb146/HK$151 (from previously Rmb154/HK$159), derived by applying a 19X P/E to 2028E EPS, with a 13% A/H premium, then discounted back to mid-2027E at a 9.5% COE.

We provide our detailed takeaways below:

- Core business growth remained solid with drags from smart home and innovative products (esp. cleaning appliances). Per management comments,
  - Charging products grew by c.20% yoy in 3Q26 (vs GSe of 10% in preview);
  - Consumer energy storage grew by c.60% yoy (vs GSe of 55%);
  - Smart home and innovative products declined by c.10% yoy (vs GSe of 20%), primarily dragged by cleaning appliances, while revenue from security systems stayed largely stable in 9M26 and revenue from emerging categories such as mom-and-baby products continued to grow robustly. Specifically for security systems, management mentioned that they are currently facing more cost headwinds as the category has a higher share of memory components in its BOM. As a result, they have shifted to a profitability-focused strategy and tactically retreated from certain categories where they face more pricing competition.
  - Audio and video products grew by 10%-20% yoy (vs GSe of 30%), primarily driven by strong growth from Liberty 5 series ANC earbuds.
- On margins, management commented that 9M26 GPM (ex-tariff refunds, same for the below) expanded by 0.5-1ppt yoy (in line with their full-year guidance) while 3Q26 GPM declined mildly yoy (<0.5ppt by our estimates). On declining selling expense ratio, management mentioned that they leveraged AI-enabled marketing strategy to enhance marketing ROI. The One-Anker branding strategy which strives to bring Anker's different sub-brands under one umbrella brand also helped improve branding efficiency.

Exhibit 1: We revise down our 2026E-28E EPS by 6%-7% to factor in the latest results and our updated assumptions primarily factoring in the likely slower growth from smart home and innovative products (Rmb mn)

Investment Thesis, Valuation and Risks

Investment thesis: Anker is a leading global smart devices enterprise with a broad product offering, holding competitive strength in innovative products with a pro-innovation corporate structure and industry-leading R&D, comprehensive global omni-channel distribution network and well recognized brands. We forecast solid core business (i.e., mobile charging, home security and headphones) growth with further market share gain potential driven by product innovations and market/channel expansion, and expect rapidly growing new businesses particularly from the structural growth of energy storage products. We believe current valuation, which is trading below historical valuation levels, provides favorable risk-reward with our estimated 20%+ revenue and profits CAGR in 2025-28E. We are Buy rated on Anker A/H-shares. Key catalysts include share gains in existing categories, expansion into new categories, entering new overseas markets and expanding China market.

Valuation: Our 12m A-share TP of Rmb146 is derived by applying a 19X P/E to 2028E EPS discounted back to mid-2027E at a 9.5% COE. Our 12m H-share TP of HK$151 is derived by applying a 13% H/A valuation discount (referencing the last 6M avg. H-A share price discount of comp A/H listed consumer stocks).

GS Factor Profile

The Goldman Sachs Factor Profile provides investment context for a stock by comparing key attributes to the market (i.e. our universe of rated stocks) and its sector peers. The four key attributes depicted are: Growth, Financial Returns, Multiple (e.g. valuation) and Integrated (a composite of Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple). Growth, Financial Returns and Multiple are calculated by using normalized ranks for specific metrics for each stock. The normalized ranks for the metrics are then averaged and converted into percentiles for the relevant attribute. The precise calculation of each metric may vary depending on the fiscal year, industry and region, but the standard approach is as follows:

Growth is based on a stock's forward-looking sales growth, EBITDA growth and EPS growth (for financial stocks, only EPS and sales growth), with a higher percentile indicating a higher growth company. Financial Returns is based on a stock's forward-looking ROE, ROCE and CROCI (for financial stocks, only ROE), with a higher percentile indicating a company with higher financial returns. Multiple is based on a stock's forward-looking P/E, P/B, price/dividend (P/D), EV/EBITDA, EV/FCF and EV/Debt Adjusted Cash Flow (DACF) (for financial stocks, only P/E, P/B and P/D), with a higher percentile indicating a stock trading at a higher multiple. The Integrated percentile is calculated as the average of the Growth percentile, Financial Returns percentile and (100% - Multiple percentile).

Financial Returns and Multiple use the Goldman Sachs analyst forecasts at the fiscal year-end at least three quarters in the future. Growth uses inputs for the fiscal year at least seven quarters in the future compared with the year at least three quarters in the future (on a per-share basis for all metrics).

For a more detailed description of how we calculate the GS Factor Profile, please contact your GS representative.

M&A Rank

Across our global coverage, we examine stocks using an M&A framework, considering both qualitative factors and quantitative factors (which may vary across sectors and regions) to incorporate the potential that certain companies could be acquired. We then assign a M&A rank as a means of scoring companies under our rated coverage from 1 to 3, with 1 representing high (30%-50%) probability of the company becoming an acquisition target, 2 representing medium (15%-30%) probability and 3 representing low (0%-15%) probability. For companies ranked 1 or 2, in line with our standard departmental guidelines we incorporate an M&A component into our target price. M&A rank of 3 is considered immaterial and therefore does not factor into our price target, and may or may not be discussed in research.

Ratings, coverage universe and related definitions

Buy (B), Neutral (N), Sell (S) Analysts recommend stocks as Buys or Sells for inclusion on various regional Investment Lists. Being assigned a Buy or Sell on an Investment List is determined by a stock's total return potential relative to its coverage universe. Any stock not assigned as a Buy or a Sell on an Investment List with an active rating (i.e., a stock that is not Rating Suspended, Not Rated, Early-Stage Biotech, Coverage Suspended or Not Covered), is deemed Neutral. Each region manages Regional Conviction Lists, which are selected from Buy rated stocks on the respective region's Investment Lists and represent investment recommendations focused on the size of the total return potential and/or the likelihood of the realization of the return across their respective areas of coverage. The addition or removal of stocks from such Conviction Lists are managed by the Investment Review Committee or other designated committee in each respective region and do not represent a change in the analysts' investment rating for such stocks.

Total return potential represents the upside or downside differential between the current share price and the price target, including all paid or anticipated dividends, expected during the time horizon associated with the price target. Price targets are required for all covered stocks. The total return potential, price target and associated time horizon are stated in each report adding or reiterating an Investment List membership.

Coverage Universe: A list of all stocks in each coverage universe is available by primary analyst, stock and coverage universe at https://www.gs.com/research/hedge.html.

Not Rated (NR). The investment rating, target price and earnings estimates (where relevant) are removed pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when Goldman Sachs is acting in an advisory capacity in a merger or in a strategic transaction involving this company, when there are legal, regulatory or policy constraints due to Goldman Sachs' involvement in a transaction, and in certain other circumstances. Early-Stage Biotech (ES). An investment rating and a target price are not assigned pursuant to Goldman Sachs policy when this company has neither a drug, treatment or medical device that has passed a Phase II clinical trial nor a license to distribute a post-Phase II drug, treatment or medical device. Rating Suspended (RS). Goldman Sachs Research has suspended the investment rating and price target for this stock, because there is not a sufficient fundamental basis for determining an investment rating or target price. The previous investment rating and target price, if any, are no longer in effect for this stock and should not be relied upon. Coverage Suspended (CS). Goldman Sachs has suspended coverage of this company. Not Covered (NC). Goldman Sachs does not cover this company.
