Amazon delivered a solid overall quarter with AI returns increasingly evident, and management remains bullish on future AWS growth. AWS accelerated to +39% growth (a $184B revenue run rate), slightly below our +41% estimate, but still the fastest growth in 5 years, while remaining capacity constrained. Importantly, AMZN believes AWS can grow above 40% in both 2027 & 2028, & become a $1T revenue business in the next 5-10 years, w/Stores also possibly reaching the $1T mark in the same timeframe. Backlog reached $578B, increasing 189% Y/Y & 17% Q/Q, & AMZN has recently emphasized that AWS is sold out through a good chunk of 2028, while always leaving a certain amount of capacity for spot/on-demand. We believe management's strong visibility into demand gives it the confidence to underwrite 40%+ growth over the next 2 years & to invest even more aggressively in AI compute infrastructure. AMZN left its outlook for ~$220B in capex in 2026 unchanged, despite outsized spend in 3Q ($77B), but expects to invest meaningfully more in 2027. AMZN also emphasized that AI is a once-in-a lifetime opportunity—the biggest transformation in our lifetime—and that it is going to continue to invest to be the leader in infrastructure & AI. Accordingly, we do not expect any slowdown in capex, and we're raising our already Street-high estimate for 2027 from $366B to $395B (+77%). That pushes AMZN to more materially negative FCF at an estimate of -($128B) in 2027, but AMZN continues to have servers & networking payback in less than 3 years w/a useful life of 5-6 years, & data centers have 30 year useful lives and see 5-6 generations of chips. Access to capital will remain top of mind for investors & we expect AMZN to primarily fund capex through operating cash flow, the debt market, & leasing opportunities. We recognize there will likely be some pushback on increasing investments & greater FCF burn in the near-term, but AMZN is showing the returns & building for a much bigger business in the medium to long-term. We reiterate our Overweight rating & our $365 PT is based on 26.5x 2028E GAAP EPS of $13.82.

KEY THOUGHTS AFTER CALLS WITH MANAGEMENT

- AWS Acceleration Continues, But Short of High Expectations. AWS revenue accelerated to ~39% growth (vs. 37% in 2Q), the fastest growth in ~5 years, but was short of buyside expectations of ~42%. Despite the expectations miss in 3Q, bigger picture, Amazon now expects AWS to reach revenue of $1T in the next 5-10 years (vs. $184B run-rate in 3Q) and expects growth of 40%+ in each 2027/2028 (vs. consensus of 35%/30%). AWS Backlog increased by $82B (+17% Q/Q) to $578B, surpassing GOOGL's 3Q-ending $561B. AWS continues to see momentum in AI, w/AWS's AI business growing triple-digits Y/Y in 3Q, driven in part by strong Bedrock growth, with Fortune 500 companies spending ~7x more Y/Y and total Bedrock token volume growing ~17x Y/Y. Amazon believes that over time Bedrock could reach the size of its EC2 business. The chips business also continued to grow triple-digits Y/Y in 3Q, with revenue commitments for Graviton and Trainium each increasing more than ~20x Y/Y. Amazon also announced it intends to begin selling Trainium chips externally in late 2027, which is expected to realize more revenue in the short-term relative to selling intelligence & inference through AWS instances. Core AWS compute/storage revenue grew at its fastest rate in

Summary Investment Thesis and Valuation

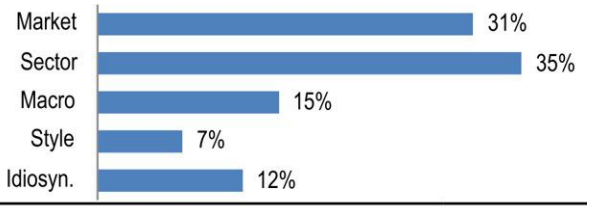

Investment Thesis

We believe Amazon is well positioned as the market leader in both e-commerce and public cloud, and the secular shifts in each have meaningful headroom as US e-comm represents <25% of adjusted retail sales and we estimate <20% of IT spend is in the cloud. We believe Amazon's flexibility across first party vs. third-party inventory, and the Prime membership serve as major advantages in its Stores business, and its multi-year head start in the cloud has led to ~30% AWS market share in '26e. We believe AMZN is on track for multi-year margin expansion led by N.America operating efficiencies. High-growth AWS and Advertising revenue streams are AMZN's most profitable businesses, further supporting margin expansion.

Valuation

Our December 2027 PT of $365 is based on ~26.5x our 2028E GAAP EPS of $13.82. This is a premium to GOOGL & META trading at ~15.5x on average, given AMZN's faster bottom-line growth profile.

several years, with Amazon seeing a strong linkage between core services and AI spend as more AI workloads move into production and drive additional demand for compute, storage, and networking. AWS continues to make progress on margin expansion despite the drag from AI revenue, with margin expansion of ~400bps to 38.7%. However, we note that margin expansion going forward may not be linear with lower margin AI revenue increasing as a % of the mix, and higher component pricing beginning to flow through the P&L in the form of depreciation. We run AWS margins in the high-30s% range going forward.

- 2026 Capex Outlook Maintained, But We Expect Continued Heavy Multi-Year Ramp. Amazon maintained its 2026 capex outlook of $220B (+71% Y/Y) despite 3Q capex of $77B coming in 31% higher vs consensus, however, we believe the heavier 3Q spend was a function of timing. Amazon highlighted that it continues to accelerate its capex payback and that there is a clear line-of-sight to attractive financial returns. As such, Amazon indicated that it expects to spend "meaningfully more" on capex in 2027, which is likely why it provided an AWS outlook for the next 2 years. We do not expect capex growth to decelerate or slow next year, and as such we project capex of $395B in 2027 (+77% Y/Y) followed by $476B in 2028 (+20% Y/Y).
- Solid Stores Growth, But Ads Impacting 4Q OI. Stores growth (1P+3P) of 2.5% FXN was in-line with our expectations w/unit growth of 12%, and everyday essentials now represent ~half of all units globally. We note that Prime Day occurred in 2Q for most of Amazon's largest countries, including the U.S., which drove the deceleration in growth from 15.4% FXN in 2Q, and was a 400bps headwind to total revenue growth in 3Q. Prime Day also impacted Ads Revenue growth by 850bps which decelerated from 26% FXN in 2Q to 12% FXN Y/Y in 3Q. Additionally, Ads growth was impacted by timing with the lack of NBA on Prime in 3Q and lapping SEM programs that drove greater monetization in 3Q25. That being said, Amazon expects Ads growth to reaccelerate to a high-teens % in 4Q, albeit still below recent growth levels of 20%+. Moving to profit, Amazon guided to 4Q OI of $28.5B to $33.5B, which was lower than investor expectations and our estimate at the midpoint. The outlook was impacted by ~$1B from the delay of Project Leo capitalization, along w/slower Ads growth and increases to fuel and line haul inflation.
- Other Notable Points. 1) Amazon is on track to reduce cost to serve per unit for the 4th consecutive year while increasing speed, which is fueling the grocery business reaching $250B TTM gross sales; 2) Management highlighted that agentic shopping from external agents is not impacting Amazon Ads and that few customers are shopping with agents as the experience is still not better or more convenient than coming directly to a retailer; 3) Prime Video has reached a revenue run-rate in the tens of billions of dollars and is now profitable in its own right.

Investment Thesis, Valuation and Risks

Amazon.com (Overweight; Price Target: $365.00)

Investment Thesis
We believe Amazon is well positioned as the market leader in both e-commerce and public cloud, and the secular shifts in each have meaningful headroom as US e-comm represents <25% of adjusted retail sales and we estimate <20% of IT spend is in the cloud. We believe Amazon's flexibility across first party vs. third-party inventory, and the Prime membership serve as major advantages in its Stores business, and its multi-year head start in the cloud has led to ~30% AWS market share in '26e. We believe AMZN is on track for multi-year margin expansion led by N.America operating efficiencies. High-growth AWS and Advertising revenue streams are AMZN's most profitable businesses, further supporting margin expansion.

Valuation
Our December 2027 PT of $365 is based on ~26.5x our 2028E GAAP EPS of $13.82. This is a premium to GOOGL & META trading at ~15.5x on average, given AMZN's faster bottom-line growth profile.

Risks to Rating and Price Target
Downside risks include: 1) Pace of AWS reacceleration & normalized growth trajectory; 2) State of US consumer, with macro pressures impacting spending levels; 3) AMZN's margin path is not always linear, with AMZN historically investing in growth; 4) GenAI monetization is early & visibility is limited; 5) Heavy competition across Stores & Cloud; 6) Increased regulatory scrutiny could become a multi-year overhang; & 7) Less traditional valuation support vs mega-cap peers.

The chart(s) show J.P. Morgan's continuing coverage of the stocks; the current analysts may or may not have covered it over the entire period.
J.P. Morgan ratings or designations: OW = Overweight, N= Neutral, UW = Underweight, NR = Not Rated

Explanation of Equity Research Ratings, Designations and Analyst(s) Coverage Universe:
J.P. Morgan uses the following rating system: Overweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will outperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe); Neutral (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will perform in line with the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe); and Underweight (over the duration of the price target indicated in this report, we expect this stock will underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe. NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating and, if applicable, the price target, for this stock because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating and, if applicable, the price target, no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. Some stocks under coverage have a rating but no price target; in these cases, we expect the stock will outperform/perform in line/underperform the average total return of the stocks in the Research Analyst's, or the Research Analyst's team's, coverage universe of the relevant duration of the region. In our Asia (ex-Australia and ex-India) and U.K. small- and mid-cap Equity Research, each stock's expected total return is compared to the expected total return of a benchmark country market index, not to those Research Analysts' coverage universe. If it does not appear in the Important Disclosures section of this report, the certifying Research Analyst's coverage universe can be found on J.P. Morgan's Research website, https://.
