HG & HY Weekly Register

. . .and Oil Always Love You!

Credit markets rallied while equity markets fell post election, with Consumer/Food/Retail outperforming. As of midday the S&P is -2.2% on the week and the tech-heavy NASDAQ -4.5%, while the 5yr and 10yr Treasuries rallied to 4.64% and 4.85%. Consumer/Retail is further supported by the drop in Brent crude to <$100. Gridlock is good for our coverage, as is the economic news of the week — Nonfarm Payrolls/Unemployment +165k/4.1% (vs surv 70k / 4.2%) and Consumer Sentiment 51 (surv 48) and 48 prior. In the week ahead we'll be focused on the CPI (surv 0.3%, 0.2% core) and PPI (0.4%, or 0.3% ex food and energy).

We heard from all of the AutoParts retailers this week, from an industry conference and AAP earnings; ACI got 2 bits of negative headlines this week with a $900mn opioid case loss and Moody's moving to Negative; COST posted solid sales; DKS partnered with Caitlin Clark; and WMT is getting more high tech with both its DCs and drone delivery.

Earnings this week were somewhat mixed, but continue to show that consumers will buy discretionary items, but are pulling back on day-to-day purchases or looking for value. BASSPR (private), TPR, and W all posted solid discretionary spend, while AAP, MCD and YUM (the latter 2 straddle food/retail) talked of consumers looking for value, or pulling back on the margins. Next week we have earnings from SBH (11/10), before Retail earnings pick up the following week (starting with HD 11/17). Full earnings takes below, as well as the earnings calendar.

Topical Trades:

| JPM View | Thesis | Reference |
|---|---|---|
| OW AAP 1.750% '27s | One-year paper, no market-refi risk, trading >5% YTW | Link |
| N KSS, OW '33s and '45s, LR 5yr CDS | Downgraded KSS '30s and '31s to N (above our target levels), keeping '33s and '45s OW, LR CDS | Link |

Sector / Spread Performance:

HG and HY widened modestly, driven by the rates rally. The JULI spread widened +1bp to 105 on the week, with HG Retail +3bps to 79. JPHY spreads widened ~1bp to 375bps (8.3%) and Retail widened ~1bp to 269 (7.3%). By rating A's widened ~1bp (87), BBBs ~2bps (128), BB's ~3bps (239), Bs flat (380) and CCC's tightened -2bps (1,130).

JPM Notes & Events

- MONDAY 11/9 @10am EST: Don't miss our Junior Hybrid Webinar, where we will speak to Jem Gumussoy in DCM and traders Kru Patel (London) and Mike Talbot (NYC) to better understand these securities, which are gaining in popularity among our issuer coverage (CPB, GIS, SYY). We'll learn 1) key structuring considerations, 2) nuances between floors and steps, 3) ratings considerations, 4) who buys hybrids, 5) what sectors are most/least in favor, and 6) how they trade. Sign up here.
- WEDNESDAY 11/1 @4pm EST: Great American (BASSPR) is hosting a new store opening event at its Sayreville, NJ store on Please email carla.casella@jpmorgan.com if you would like to join us at the event and we will arrange transport!
- SAVE THE DATE: December 1st from 9am - 3pm we are planning our Holiday Mall Walk at Simon Property's Short Hills Mall. Details to come!
- Chase Spending Data (through October 29) continues to trail September's trend across income cohorts: [1]Total spending grew ~5.7% (vs Sept's 6.8%), with discretionary +5.3% (6.9%) and non-discretionary (inc gas) +6.8% (6.6%). Ex gas, spending grew 4.9% (6.1%). By income: Upper Income +7.0% (8.0%); Middle Income +7.4% (8.5%); and Lower Income +5.4% (7.0%). (Full note here).

Shopping Trends of the Past Week (i.e., Retail News)

- Albertsons (ACI) lost a $900mn opioid case in WA and Moody's lowered its rating outlook to Negative (earlier in the week). The state of WA ruled against ACI on 11/5, but has not yet provided a time frame for payment (and Albertsons expects to appeal). The state case was separate from the joint tribes and multi-state litigations that were settled prior, and should bring the cases nearly to an end. Prior settlements are being paid over 15-20 years, with legal fees paid over 1-5 year periods. If we assume the $900mn holds, and there is a 15-20 year payout, ACI could owe $50-60mn annually, which should be manageable given next year FCF is likely >$600mn, or >$300mn after the ~$315mn dividend. Moody's lowered ACI's outlook to Negative, reflecting weaker than expected performance and leverage that will likely hold close to its 3.75x downgrade threshold (3.7x today) (bonds are Ba2/BB+ Neg/Sta).
- AutoZone (AZO), Genuine Parts (GPC), and O'Reilly (ORLY) presented at an auto symposium this week and Advance (AAP) posted earnings, saying many of the same things about the industry, but with a few company/initiative nuances. What is consistent is that the automotive repair industry remains supported by high interest rates, new vehicle costs >$50k, and older cars on the road. The low income consumer remains pressured, pulling back on discretionary segments, but the less elastic "failure and maintenance" business remains steady. This industry is typically able to pass on cost increases (motor oil, fuel, transportation) in pricing given the necessary nature of repair and maintenance.
    - AZO expects to grow share in both commercial and DIY, supported by +130 market hubs to reach 300 mega hubs in 3yrs (100k SKUs/hub) increasing same-day availability of parts to its commercial as well as retail stores (6,863 US, 1,001 in Mexico, and 167 in Brazil).
    - GPC remains focused on the separation of its Retail and Industrial businesses in 1Q27. It believes that, as the largest player in the industrial distribution space, it has a right to win in that market and that its auto business is a nicely diversified global business (vs peers that are more domestic - 10,850 locations across NA, EUR and Australia). Napa is #1 in Canada and outpacing the industry in Europe. From the split details, it still sees $100-150mn of separation costs, including dis-synergies of $50-75mn and a similar amount for public company costs at Motion. It still expects both businesses to remain IG and will provide details during the investor days on Dec 8 and 9.

- ORLY targets share growth through further store openings (rather than M&A) with plans to add 40 this year (to the base 6,758 stores: 6,595 US, 134 Mexico, 29 Canada), supported by its 32 regional DCs that each carry 170k SKUs (larger than competitors'). It is rebranding Canadian stores with the O'Reilly brand over the next 1-2yrs.
- AAP earnings beat our estimates and were strong from a cash flow perspective. It raised its annual FCF target to $150mn, which we believe sets it up nicely to repay the '27 notes at maturity using cash and cash flow (rather than refinancing) — this is what drove our upgrade for the '27s to OW for 1yr paper ~5.5% YTW (Some Gas Some Brakes - Raising '27s to OW)

- Costco (COST) posted strong October sales. Total comps grew 11.1%, or 7.3% ex gas, led by Ancillary (+mid-30s) including Gas, Pharmacy, and Hearing Aids. Non-Foods grew +HSD%, helped by gift cards, sporting goods and home and Fresh Foods grew +MSD-HSD% led by meat and bakery. Foods and sundries grew +MSD%, with strength in sundries, food and frozen foods. Separately, Moody's changed its COST outlook to Positive (Bonds are rated Aa3/AA/AA, Pos/Stable/Stable).
- DICK's (DKS) signed Caitlin Clark as a first-ever brand partner across DICK's and Food Locker.
- Walmart (WMT) is going even more high-tech, expanding relationships with Symbotic and Zipline. It is adding more robotics tech to 25 of its US DCs ($6bn investment) with Symbotic. It already fulfills >50% of its e-com volume through automated facilities. Separately, it added 300 new Zipline drone delivery sites through its partnership agreement with the delivery service. It has already serviced >2mn deliveries with its drone offering, including everyday essentials delivered within 30min. It has been working with Zipline since 2021

Swipin' with CDS:

- HG CDS tightened 1, with Retail outperforming (-2), led by BBY & LOW, both -3
- HY CDS was flat, but Retail outperformed (15 tighter) led by KSS -30, NEWALB -25, and JWN -18

Explanation of Credit Research Valuation Methodology, Ratings and Risk to Ratings:
J.P. Morgan uses a bond-level rating system that incorporates valuations (relative value) and our fundamental view on the security. Our fundamental credit view of an issuer is based on the company's underlying credit trends, overall and our opinion on whether the issuer will be able to service its debt obligations when they become due and payable. We analyze, among other things, the company's cash flow capacity and trends and standard credit ratios, such as gross and net leverage, interest coverage and liquidity ratios. We also analyze profitability, capitalization and asset quality, among other variables, when assessing financials. Analysts also rate the issuer, based on the rating of the benchmark or representative security. Unless we specify a different recommendation for the company's individual securities, an issuer recommendation applies to all of the bonds at the same level of the issuer's capital structure. We may also rate certain loans and preferred securities, as applicable. This report also sets out within it the material underlying assumptions used. We use the following ratings for bonds (issues), issuers, loans, and preferred securities: Overweight (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to outperform the relevant index, sector, or benchmark); Neutral (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to perform in line with the relevant index, sector, or benchmark); and Underweight (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to underperform the relevant index, sector, or benchmark). For CDS, we use the following rating system: Long Risk (over the next three months, the credit return on the recommended position is expected to exceed the relevant index, sector or benchmark); Neutral (over the next three months, the credit return on the recommended position is expected to match the relevant index, sector or benchmark); and Short Risk (over the next three months, the credit return on the recommended position is expected to underperform the relevant index, sector or benchmark).
