EMAX ends 3Q with a bang

EMAX ends 3Q with a bang

EMAX ended the third quarter with a bang with both Taiwan's 3Q GDP and Korea's September IP surging past expectations. Strong tech exports are increasingly combining with non-tech exports and domestic investment to deliver economic strength. In the case of Taiwan, 3Q GDP printed at a sizzling 13.5% q/q, saar, blowing past expectations. Exports continue to remain strong, underpinned by relentless AI demand, but are now being increasingly complemented by domestic investment in the tech sector – which was a key contributor to 3Q GDP – increasingly necessary to service sustained external demand. In Korea's case, September IP grew 9% m/m, sa – more than making up for the August contraction -- and coming in much above consensus expectations and even higher than our out-of-consensus forecast. Importantly, the gains were broad-based across the tech and non-tech sectors. Even as 3Q GDP in Korea came in slightly shy of our expectations – though much above that of the Bank of Korea's and consensus expectations – September IP confirmed that momentum was strong at the end of the third quarter, prompting us to increase 4Q GDP as well as raise the possibility that 3Q GDP will be marked up in subsequent revisions. We had previously argued that – against a backdrop of strong exports and PMIs – the August IP weakness in Asia was an aberration underpinned by one-off supply dislocations in Korea and Japan. The strength of September IP in these economies reinforces that thesis. 3Q EMAX GDP is now tracking an above-trend 5.2% -- in line with strong first half growth – suggesting no let up in momentum.

Asian central banks: current holds but future hikes

Even as monetary tightening in Asia has broadened in recent months, central banks are moving at different speeds, as we have been expecting, reflecting differential exposure to the tech cycle, domestic demand dynamics, energy pass through and financial stability risks. BSP recently surprised with a 50 bps hike reflecting stronger energy passthrough from resurgent oil prices. Meanwhile, Bank Indonesia expectedly held, but we believe will continue hiking in the coming months to stave off currency pressures, while MAS held policy rates as inflation pressures have abated.

This week both the Bank of Thailand and Taiwan's CBC held rates, but the odds of future hikes are rising. The BOT delivered a subtle hawkish pivot by highlight macro-financial stability concerns arising from low interest rates. The BOT Governor also suggested that the BOT could hike if inflation surprises to the upside, after the BOT unexpectedly lowered its 2026-27 inflation forecasts despite sharply rising energy prices. Taken together, these developments suggest that the BOT has left the door open to eventual normalization, supporting our forecast for three 25bp hikes in February, June, and August next year taking the policy rate to 1.75%. In the case of the CBC, the 3Q minutes reinforced our view that the current inflation backdrop does not yet warrant additional monetary tightening. AI activity is relatively rate-insensitive, imported inflation pass-through to CPI remains contained, and tighter policy would weigh ly on weaker SMEs and the non-tech sectors. But the combination of a longer AI upcycle and fiscal expansion raises the 2027 hawkish tail risk: if AI-driven income gains and fiscal transfers broaden household demand and push services/ core inflation persistently above 2%, alongside weaker energy subsidies, the case for 2027 CBC hikes will strengthen.

Next week, we expect Bank Negara Malaysia (BNM) to continue to remain on hold but retain its hawkish guidance from September, continuing to emphasize improving growth alongside rising inflation risks. This should leave the door open to our forecast for a one-off 25bp hike in 1Q27. We assign a modest probability of 20% to a 25bp hike next week, as the BNM is likely to remain patient amid heightened economic uncertainty.

China: Fifth Plenum light on economic policy

The Fifth Plenum of the 20th Party Congress emphasized strict Party governance and discipline, stressing stricter governance of government officials and continued anti-graft campaign. This could further impact incentives of local officials, already cautious with new initiatives. We do not expect the meeting outcome to materially impact growth momentum in 4Q26 and 1Q27, as this de-risking was already embedded in the "laying flat" behavior and our growth outlook. The Plenum decided that the 21st National Congress of the CPC will be held in 2H27, a major event that could shape China's growth dynamics in years to come. While the Plenum offered no new policy impetus, we expect the PMIs to remain relatively firm, supported by resilient trade, continued fiscal delivery and the boost from policy measures announced following the September 28 State Council meeting. We expect the NBS manufacturing PMI to hold at 50.1, and the RatingDog PMI to edge down to 51.8 as concerns linger over trade disputes and energy costs.

Disclosures

Analyst Certification: The Research Analyst(s) denoted by an "AC" on the cover of this report certifies (or, where multiple Research Analysts are primarily responsible for this report, the Research Analyst denoted by an "AC" on the cover or within the document individually certifies, with respect to each security or issuer that the Research Analyst covers in this research) that: (1) all of the views expressed in this report accurately reflect the Research Analyst's personal views about any and all of the subject securities or issuers; and (2) no part of any of the Research Analyst's compensation was, is, or will be directly or indirectly related to the specific recommendations or views expressed by the Research Analyst(s) in this report. For all Korea-based Research Analysts listed on the front cover, if applicable, they also certify, as per KOFIA requirements, that the Research Analyst's analysis was made in good faith and that the views reflect the Research Analyst's own opinion, without undue influence or intervention.

All authors named within this report are Research Analysts who produce independent research unless otherwise specified. In Europe, Sector Specialists (Sales and Trading) may be shown on this report as contacts but are not authors of the report or part of the Research Department.

Research excerpts: This material may include excerpts from previously published reports. For access to the full reports, including analyst certification and important disclosures, please contact your sales representative or the covering analyst's team, or visit https://www.jpmorganmarkets.com.

Important Disclosures

Company-Specific Disclosures: Important disclosures, including price charts and credit opinion history tables (if applicable), are available for compendium reports and all J.P. Morgan–covered companies, and certain non-covered companies, by visiting https://www.jpmm.com/research/disclosures, calling 1-800-477-0406, or e-mailing research.disclosure.inquiries@jpmorgan.com with your request.

History of Investment Recommendations:
A history of J.P. Morgan investment recommendations disseminated during the preceding 12 months can be accessed on the Research & Commentary page of http://www.jpmorganmarkets.com where you can also search by analyst name, sector or financial instrument.

Explanation of Emerging Markets Sovereign Research Ratings System and Valuation & Methodology:
Ratings System: J.P. Morgan uses the following issuer portfolio weightings for Emerging Markets Sovereign Research: Overweight (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to outperform the relevant index, sector, or benchmark credit returns); Marketweight (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to perform in line with the relevant index, sector, or benchmark credit returns); and Underweight (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to underperform the relevant index, sector, or benchmark credit returns). NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating for this security because of either legal, regulatory or policy reasons or because of lack of a sufficient fundamental basis. The previous rating no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. NC is Not Covered. An NC designation is not a rating or a recommendation. Recommendations will be at the issuer level, and an issuer recommendation applies to all of the index-eligible bonds at the same level for the issuer. When we change the issuer-level rating, we are changing the rating for all of the issues covered, unless otherwise specified. Ratings for quasi-sovereign issuers in the EMBIG may differ from the ratings provided in EM corporate coverage.

Valuation & Methodology: For J.P. Morgan's Emerging Markets Sovereign Research, we assign a rating to each sovereign issuer (Overweight, Marketweight or Underweight) based on our view of whether the combination of the issuer's fundamentals, market technicals, and the relative value of its securities will cause it to outperform, perform in line with, or underperform the credit returns of the EMBIGD index over the next three months. Our view of an issuer's fundamentals includes our opinion of whether the issuer is becoming more or less able to service its debt obligations when they become due and payable, as well as whether its willingness to service debt obligations is increasing or decreasing.

J.P. Morgan Emerging Markets Sovereign Research Ratings Distribution, as of October 3, 2026

	Overweight (buy)	Marketweight (hold)	Underweight (sell)
Emerging Markets Sovereign Research Universe*	9%	84%	7%
IB clients	83%	89%	100%

Please note that the percentages may not add to 100% because of rounding.
*Percentage of subject issuers within each of the "Overweight, "Marketweight" and "Underweight" categories for which J.P. Morgan has provided investment banking services within the previous 12 months.
For purposes of FINRA ratings distribution rules only, our Overweight rating falls into a buy rating category; our Marketweight rating falls into a hold rating category; and our Underweight rating falls into a sell rating category. The Emerging Markets Sovereign Research Rating Distribution is at the issuer level. Issuers with an NR or an NC designation are not included in the table above. This information is current as of the end of the most recent calendar quarter.
