Key Takeaways

- Mato Grosso soybean planting advanced 13.2pp WoW to 89.1%, ahead of the 5-year average (78.5%), last year's pace (76.1%) and the 5-year max (83.5%).
- Weather supported Mato Grosso soy planting but weighed on São Paulo cane harvest; forecasts turn drier in MT, while wet conditions persist in SP.
- US corn/soy harvest reached 60%/79%, with corn still below the 5-year average, while soy moved ahead; corn crop conditions remained unchanged, below the historical average.
- Argentina corn planting reached 47.3%, up 7.5pp WoW and 12.3pp ahead of last season, while soybean planting started at 2.3%, also ahead of last year.
- Brazil CS crushing fell 21% YoY in 1H Oct; YTD crushing is -3% YoY, while cumulative sugar output is -15% YoY and below the 5-year average.

MS view: Mato Grosso soybean planting reached 89.1%, up 13.2p.p. WoW and 12.9p.p. ahead of last year, largely easing concerns around harvest timing and the safrinha setup. The forecast looks drier, and we should be watchful for dry spells ("veranico"), with too many consecutive days of limited rainfall and heat that could affect crop development. We are now entering a more weather-sensitive stage for soybean conditions. In Argentina, soybean planting started at 2.3%, broadly in line with the 2.4% 5-year average.

Commodities move lower this week post-election in Brazil and BRL depreciation, but fundamentals remain supportive. Soybeans fell 2.73% WTD to $12.22/bu, and corn declined 1.81% to $4.48/bu, as the weaker BRL improved Brazil's export competitiveness and encouraged farmer selling, while faster soybean planting also reduced safrinha corn supply risk. Sugar fell 3.76% WTD to 19.47c/lb, also pressured by the post-election BRL depreciation, higher uncertainty on government fuel policies, despite rainfall reducing Brazilian crushing and sugar production. We remain bullish sugar, as lower Brazilian supply and El Niño-related disruptions could tighten the global balance further (see Sugar and Ethanol: El Niño Bites Brazil Sugar Supply. Staying Constructive on Sugar, OW SMTO 29 Oct 2026).

STOCK RATINGS

Morgan Stanley uses a relative rating system using terms such as Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated or Underweight (see definitions below). Morgan Stanley does not assign ratings of Buy, Hold or Sell to the stocks we cover. Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight are not the equivalent of buy, hold and sell. Investors should carefully read the definitions of all ratings used in Morgan Stanley Research. In addition, since Morgan Stanley Research contains more complete information concerning the analyst's views, investors should carefully read Morgan Stanley Research, in its entirety, and not infer the contents from the rating alone. In any case, ratings (or research) should not be used or relied upon as investment advice. An investor's decision to buy or sell a stock should depend on individual circumstances (such as the investor's existing holdings) and other considerations.

Global Stock Ratings Distribution

(as of September 30, 2026)

The Stock Ratings described below apply to Morgan Stanley's Fundamental Equity Research and do not apply to Debt Research produced by the Firm.

For disclosure purposes only (in accordance with FINRA requirements), we include the category headings of Buy, Hold, and Sell alongside our ratings of Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight. Morgan Stanley does not assign ratings of Buy, Hold or Sell to the stocks we cover. Overweight, Equal-weight, Not-Rated and Underweight are not the equivalent of buy, hold, and sell but represent recommended relative weightings (see definitions below). To satisfy regulatory requirements, we correspond Overweight, our most positive stock rating, with a buy recommendation; we correspond Equal-weight and Not-Rated to hold and Underweight to sell recommendations, respectively.

who receive it. Morgan Stanley recommends that investors independently evaluate particular investments and strategies, and encourages investors to seek the advice of a financial adviser. The appropriateness of an investment or strategy will depend on an investor's circumstances and objectives. The securities, instruments, or strategies discussed in Morgan Stanley Research may not be suitable for all investors, and certain investors may not be eligible to purchase or participate in some or all of them. Morgan Stanley Research is not an offer to buy or sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy or sell any security/instrument or to participate in any particular trading strategy. The value of and income from your investments may vary because of changes in interest rates, foreign exchange rates, default rates, prepayment rates, securities/instruments prices, market indexes, operational or financial conditions of companies or other factors. There may be time limitations on the exercise of options or other rights in securities/instruments transactions. Past performance is not necessarily a guide to future performance. Estimates of future performance are based on assumptions that may not be realized. If provided, and unless otherwise stated, the closing price on the cover page is that of the primary exchange for the subject company's securities/instruments.

The fixed income research analysts, strategists or economists principally responsible for the preparation of Morgan Stanley Research have received compensation based upon various factors, including quality, accuracy and value of research, firm profitability or revenues (which include fixed income trading and capital markets profitability or revenues), client feedback and competitive factors. Fixed Income Research analysts', strategists' or economists' compensation is not linked to investment banking or capital markets transactions performed by Morgan Stanley or the profitability or revenues of particular trading desks.

The "Important Regulatory Disclosures on Subject Companies" section in Morgan Stanley Research lists all companies mentioned where Morgan Stanley owns 1% or more of a class of common equity securities of the companies. For all other companies mentioned in Morgan Stanley Research, Morgan Stanley may have an investment of less than 1% in securities/instruments or derivatives of securities/instruments of companies and may trade them in ways different from those discussed in Morgan Stanley Research. Employees of Morgan Stanley not involved in the preparation of Morgan Stanley Research may have investments in securities/instruments or derivatives of securities/instruments of companies mentioned and may trade them in ways different from those discussed in Morgan Stanley Research. Derivatives may be issued by Morgan Stanley or associated persons.

With the exception of information regarding Morgan Stanley, Morgan Stanley Research is based on public information. Morgan Stanley makes every effort to use reliable, comprehensive information, but we make no representation that it is accurate or complete. We have no obligation to tell you when opinions or information in Morgan Stanley Research change apart from when we intend to discontinue equity research coverage of a subject company.
