25 for 2026: Copper growth beckons. Eyes on asset sales.

Reiterate Rating: BUY | PO: 650.00 GBp | Price: 541.50 GBp

Q3 production (only) = mixed

Glencore is on our "25 stocks for 2026" list. We summarise Q3 production (Only) results. Key commodities. Copper, coal. Copper 202 kt, -16% YoY, +2% QoQ, -3% vs. GLEN company consensus. (Results from key assets Collahuasi, Antamina, already known as JV partners have reported.) Coal: Energy coal 27 Mt, +5% YoY, +8% QoQ, +4% vs. GLEN company consensus. Coking coal 8 Mt, -11% YoY, +14% QoQ, -5% vs. GLEN company consensus. Other commodities: zinc ahead, cobalt light, nickel a bit light. No change to guidance. Zinc, energy coal tracking to top end of guidance; copper, met coal towards lower end and nickel in the middle. Reflecting results, 2026E EBITDA -5% to US$20.5 bn. We reiterate our BUY rating and, price objective GBp650/U$17.20.

Teeing up copper growth. Asset sales also in focus

GLEN is progressing copper growth options. In Peru, it has completed land acquisitions that enable its Coroccohuayco project = brownfield doubling of production to c. 300 ktpa. In Argentina, GLEN's MARA copper project received approval under government's "RIGI" framework. Asset sales: Press articles (FT) quote Glencore CEO Gary Nagle discussing asset sales. The focus is on DRC copper, where GLEN plans to sell c. 40% of interests "for value" (Link: DRC Copper) and on Kazzinc. Our SoTP value for 70% of Kazzinc is US$4.0bn. Beyond these, we also consider GLEN's 17% stake in Bunge, a US Ag trading company, at current market value. Rough maths, DRC + KAZ + BG adds up to c. $11bn/c.13% of market cap.

$5bn+ marketing profits. Raising bar for long term

With Q3 production report, GLEN reiterated FY2025 Marketing EBIT > $5 bn. Tight markets, high prices & volatility = Good for Marketing profits. GLEN recently adjusted its marketing profit guide for a new, higher range and midpoint. Midterm marketing EBIT guidance is now $2.8-4.2bn, up from $2.3-$3.5bn. Per Glencore, this reflects two key trends: (1) higher readily marketable inventories (RMIs) deployed in the marketing business, mainly the result of higher commodity prices; and (2) higher financing costs, which are passed through to customers and thus "require" higher profit to offset. We recently updated our "Primer" on GLEN's marketing business (see: Marketing Primer).

Company Sector

Non-Ferrous-Mining

Company Description

Glencore is one of the world's largest marketers of commodities, with sales of c. US$250bn in 2025. The company is also a major producer of mined commodities including copper, zinc, nickel, cobalt, lead & coal. While its head office is in Baar, Switzerland, the group has offices around the world and major production assets in Africa, South America, and Eurasia.

Investment Rationale

Key commodities for Glencore are thermal coal, coking coal, copper, and zinc. Coal has been under pressure but has now troughed, in our view, implying the likelihood of consensus upgrades from here. The company also stands out for not being exposed to iron ore, like Big Miner peers. Shares are inexpensive versus our price objective.

Company commentary on production

- Copper: Own sourced copper production of 598,600 tonnes was 15,100 tonnes (3%) above the comparable 2025 period, driven by increased mining rates and improved grades at African Copper (56,700 tonnes) and higher grades at Antamina (32,300 tonnes), more than offsetting the planned closure of Mount Isa copper mine in Q3 2025 and disposal of the Kidd mine on 1 June 2026 (together, 49,700 tonnes) and lower production at Antapaccay (16,700 tonnes) and Collahuasi (7,200 tonnes).

- Cobalt: Own sourced cobalt production of 13,700 tonnes was 14,800 tonnes (52%) below the comparable 2025 period, reflecting the ongoing DRC cobalt export quota regime and a continued focus on copper production. Consequently, cobalt contained in mixed ore is increasingly being retained in solution rather than processed into saleable hydroxide, with value expected to be realised as export regulations evolve.

- Zinc: Own sourced zinc production of 547,200 tonnes was 162,200 tonnes (23%) lower than the comparable 2025 period, primarily reflecting Lady Loretta having reached the end of its mine life in late 2025 (73,700 tonnes), lower zinc grades at Antamina (69,400 tonnes) in line with planned higher copper/lower zinc mine sequencing, and disposal of the Kidd mine on 1 June 2026 (6,500 tonnes). Adjusting for Lady Loretta and Kidd, own sourced production was 13% lower, mainly reflecting the planned lower Antamina zinc grades.

- Nickel: Own sourced nickel production of 54,600 tonnes was 4% above the comparable 2025 period.

- Chrome: Attributable chrome ore production of 2,553,000 tonnes was 201,000 tonnes (7%) lower than the comparable 2025 period, reflecting varied operating conditions over the period.

- Steelmaking coal: Production of 21.5 million tonnes was 3.2 million tonnes (13%) below the comparable 2025 period, primarily reflecting lower plant throughput and yields at EVR.

- Energy coal: Production of 73.9 million tonnes was broadly in line with the comparable 2025 period.

Price objective basis & risk

Glencore (GLCNF / GLNCY)

Our price objective of GBp650 (ADR $17.20) is c. 1x our DCF- and PE-derived sum-of-the-parts valuation. Through the cycle, large-cap diversified miners have traded between 0.7x and 1.3x net present value (weighted-average cost of capital of c. 10% and terminal growth rate of 2%), with higher multiples being paid during periods of rising commodity prices. Shares of more financially and operationally leveraged vehicles, such as Glencore, tend to trade at premiums to NPV during periods of positive outlook for miners and lower multiples during periods of challenging economic outlook. Specifically, we apply a PE of 12x to the marketing businesses and a range of 1-1.5x P/NAV to Glencore's unlisted business. We apply the market value to Glencore's listed business stakes.

Upside/downside risks to our price objective are commodity prices being stronger/weaker than our forecasts, trading profits being better/worse than our estimates, better/worse-than-modelled cost savings at industrial assets, positive/negative operational surprises at the group's industrial assets, a rise/decline in the market value of the group's listed assets.

FUNDAMENTAL EQUITY OPINION KEY: Opinions include a Volatility Risk Rating, an Investment Rating and an Income Rating. VOLATILITY RISK RATINGS, indicators of potential price fluctuation, are: A - Low, B - Medium and C - High. INVESTMENT RATINGS reflect the analyst's assessment of both a stock's absolute total return potential as well as its attractiveness for investment relative to other stocks within its Coverage Cluster (defined below). Our investment ratings are: 1 - Buy stocks are expected to have a total return of at least 10% and are the most attractive stocks in the coverage cluster; 2 - Neutral stocks are expected to remain flat or increase in value and are less attractive than Buy rated stocks and 3 - Underperform stocks are the least attractive stocks in a coverage cluster. An investment rating of 6 (No Rating) indicates that a stock is no longer trading on the basis of fundamentals. Analysts assign investment ratings considering, among other things, the 0-12 month total return expectation for a stock and the firm's guidelines for ratings dispersions (shown in the table below). The current price objective for a stock should be referenced to better understand the total return expectation at any given time. The price objective reflects the analyst's view of the potential price appreciation (depreciation).

Investment rating	Total return expectation (within 12-month period of date of initial rating)	Ratings dispersion guidelines for coverage cluster[R2]
Buy	≥ 10%	≤ 70%
Neutral	≥ 0%	≤ 30%
Underperform	N/A	≥ 20%

[R2]Ratings dispersions may vary from time to time where BofA Global Research believes it better reflects the investment prospects of stocks in a Coverage Cluster.

INCOME RATINGS, indicators of potential cash dividends, are: 7 - same/higher (dividend considered to be secure), 8 - same/lower (dividend not considered to be secure) and 9 - pays no cash dividend. Coverage Cluster is comprised of stocks covered by a single analyst or two or more analysts sharing a common industry, sector, region or other classification(s). A stock's coverage cluster is included in the most recent BofA Global Research report referencing the stock.
